Isaiah 5-6

---

4) The Throne – 6:1-8

5) Isaiah's Commission – 6:9-13

Praxis

1. The 6 woes of Isa 5:8-23 represent more extreme cases... what might be lesser forms of each of these forms of each of these 6 of which we ought also to be careful? In considering these, any particular "woe is me" and follow-on action appropriate for you?
2. God's long-suffering with Israel was joined with loving & reasoned appeals to return... how might this same heart play out in Christian parents in various scenarios? [Take time to pray for a particular parent]
3. Why is "woe is me" necessary for proper worship in this present age? How might we actually practice this in our various times of personal and public worship?
4. Thought Question: In what ways does Isaiah's commission in 6:8-10 relate to our commission to witness for Christ in this world?
